I'm a full stack web developer with a solid foundation in both front-end and back-end development, and a passion for building innovative web applications. Throughout my career I have successfully developed and deployed full-stack web applications using technologies such as Javascript, React, Node.js, Python and MySQL. Moreover I have experience developing bots with PHP for messaging services using WhatsApp Business API. Some of the projects I have worked on includes a WiFi Hotspot App with Python-Flask, landing pages using React and e-commerce websites using Wordpress.
